

Floral Dress Series

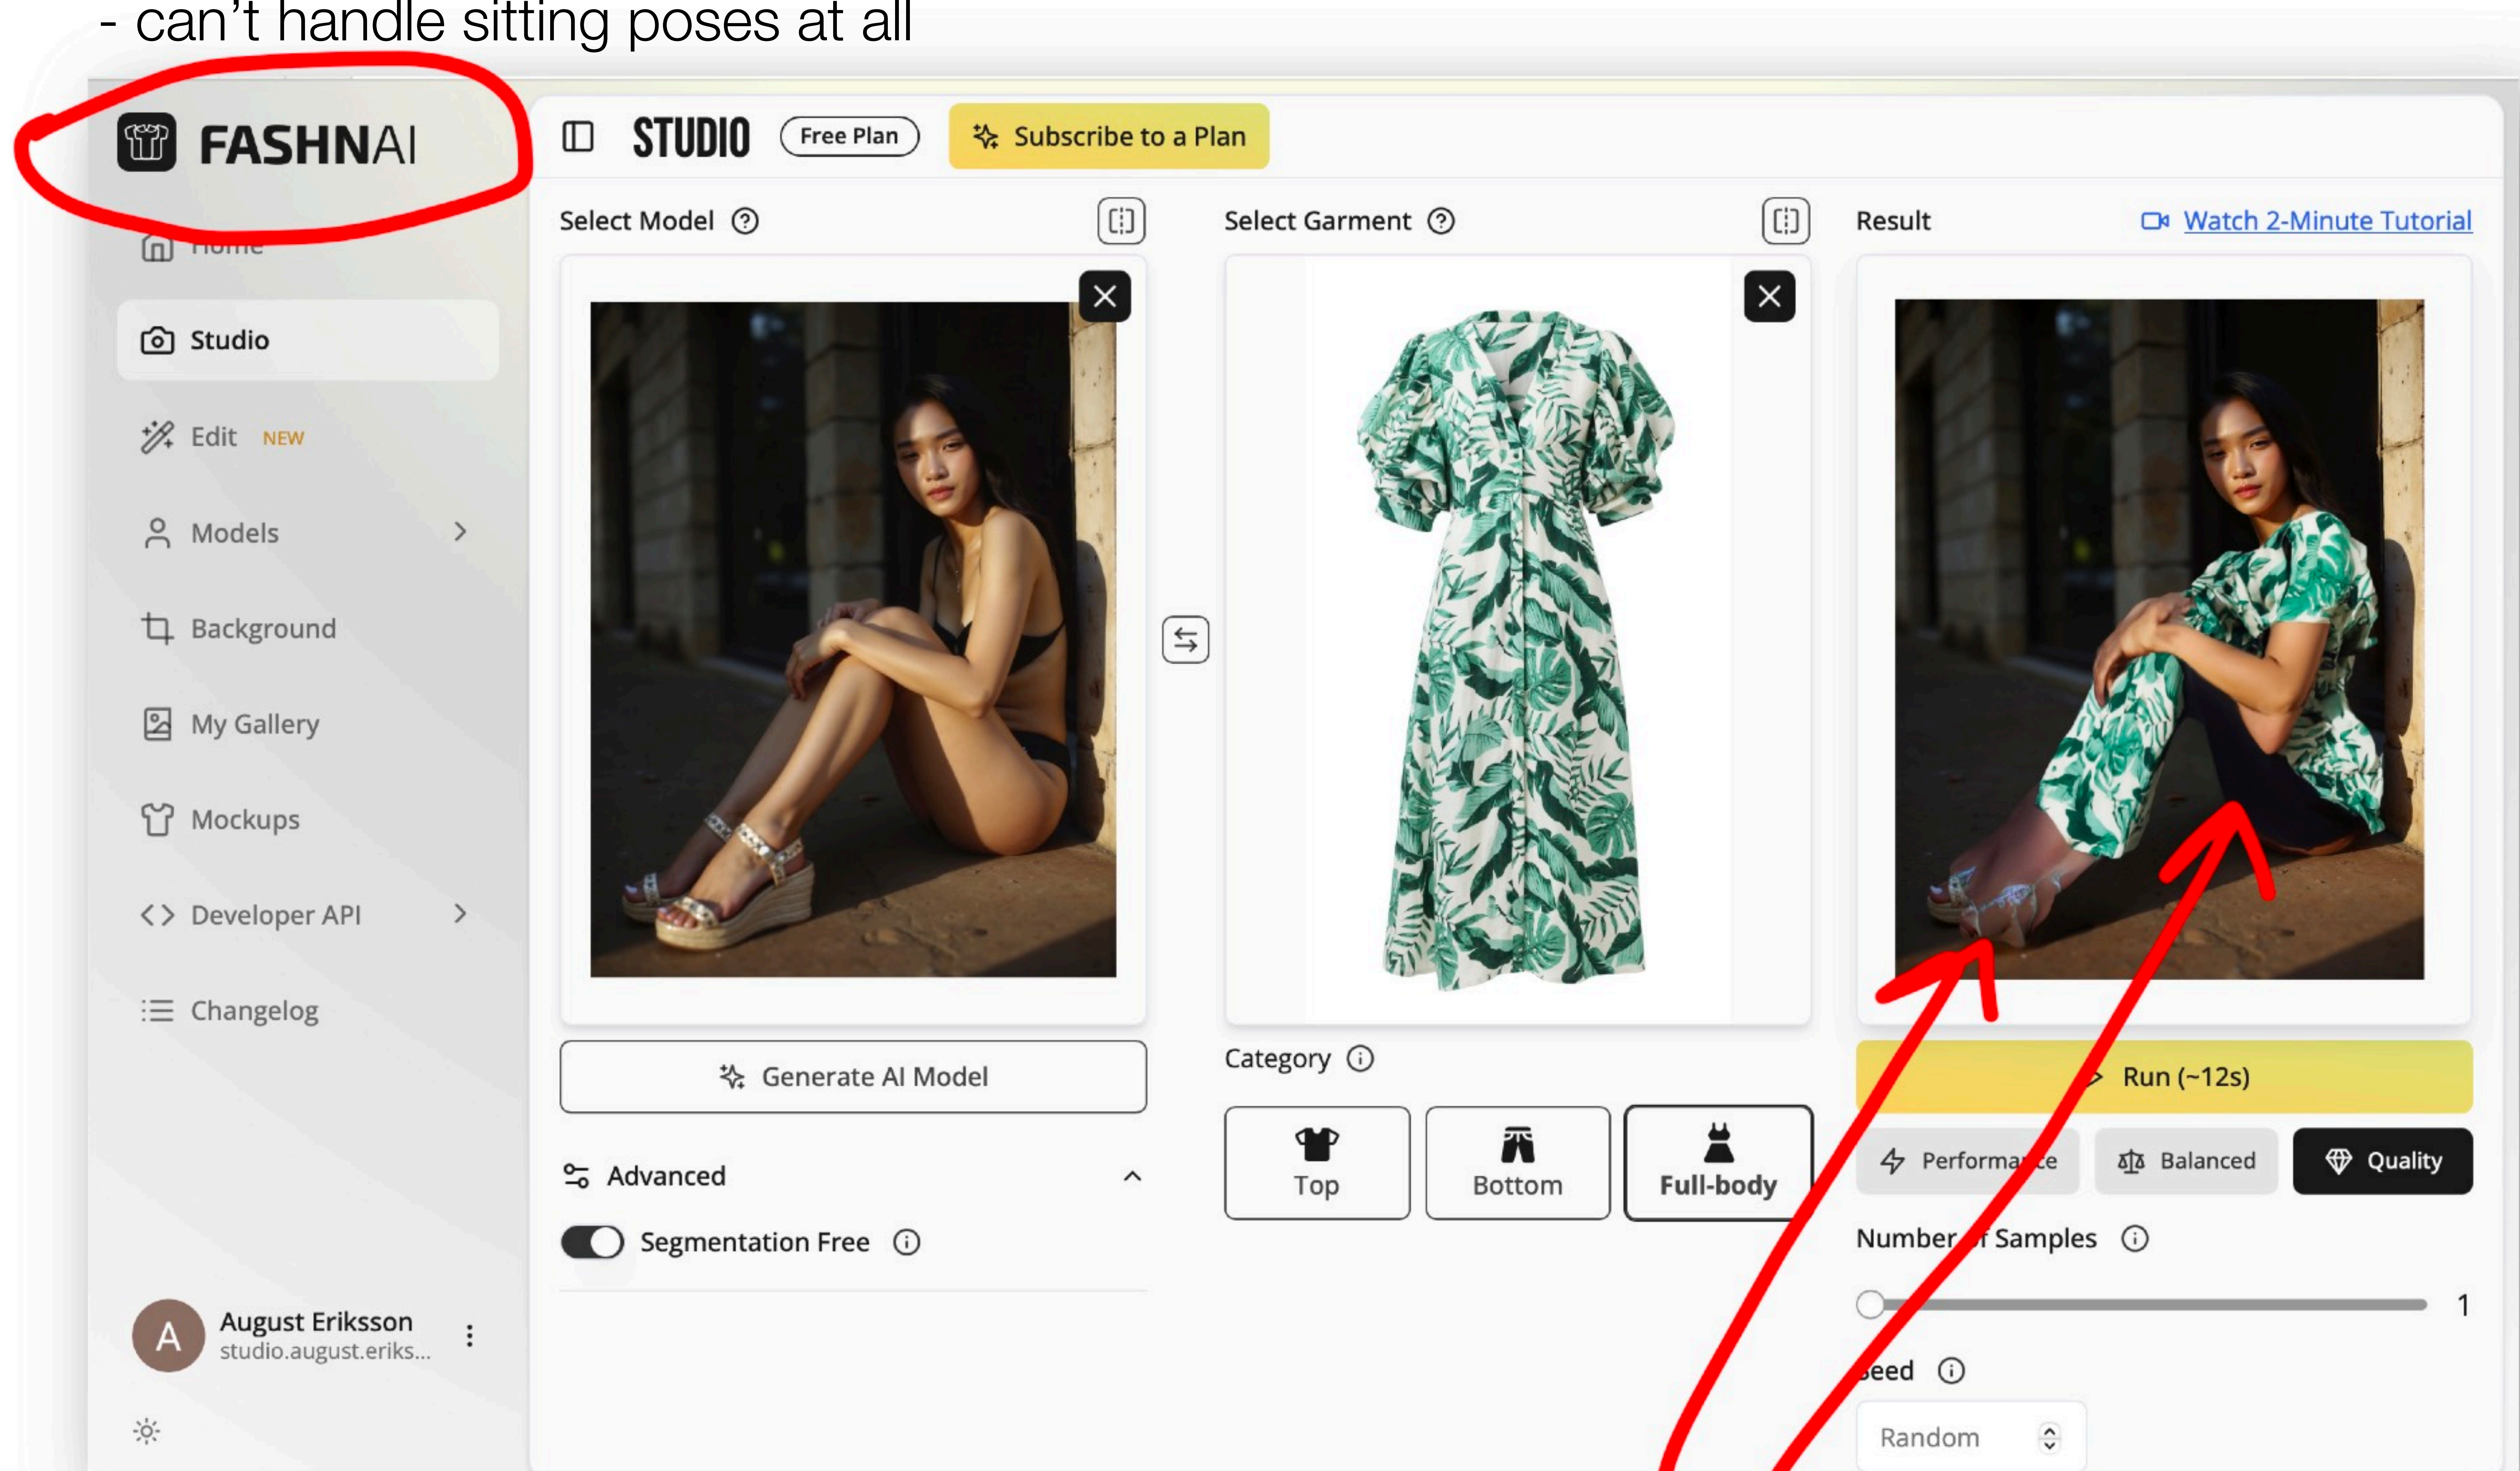

A long, green-and-white floral dress is showcased on multiple AI-generated models, each in a different environment and pose.

Existing commercial solutions struggle to maintain character consistency and realistic styling.

My solution uses custom Open source workflows that ensures product, model and background consistency across the series.

Example from leading commercial Try-On app "FASHN"

- can't maintain garment consistency
- can't handle sitting poses at all

- Body deformed
- Dress falling apart
